

Lesson Plan Outburst, Jr.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Goal – To learn the contents and location of Gateway Vocabulary by engaging in a competitive play activity. | | |
| Gateway 20 –This activity is minimally applicable to Gateway 20. The game concept is appropriate for children targeted for this page set, however, the actual game cards offer limited opportunities for full participation. | Gateway 40 – This activity is appropriate for individuals learning to use Gateway 40. | Gateway 60 - This activity is appropriate for individuals learning to use Gateway 60. |
| Activity Description: Outburst, Jr. is a commercially available game that requires players to name items related to categories such as colors, feelings, snack foods, etc. Players earn points for correct answers. The player with the most points wins. The majority of game cards require single word answers. A few cards seek multiple word utterances. Game cards that contain a significant portion of Gateway vocabulary are highlighted below. | | |
| Materials: Outburst, Jr. Game (Can be purchased at most toy stores) | | |
| Recommended Modifications: This game can be modified in 2 ways. (1) The number of “correct” responses can be changed to a number lower than 10. Since many cards contain 4-5 words, a target of 4 or 5 can be set as the goal. (2) Cards can be modified to include additional Gateway vocabulary that relates to each card. In this scenario, the target would be 10 correct responses. The therapist or individual managing the game must work through the Gateway vocabulary to add targeted words each card. Of the two scenarios, option #2 is recommended, since it can help a user learn more of Gateway’s contents. | | |
